Penn State and Harvard Lead in Race for Mythical Eastern Football Championship

Syracuse Team Out of Running For Top Honors

No One Can Tell From Which Quarter Next Football Shock Will Come

By Ray McCarthy

You can't tell from which quarter e next shock will come in this modneved to Wercester, confident and unconcerned about its encounter with Holy Cross, and received a stargering blow flush on the end of its Orange neadlight. This wallop sent the Salt City eleven recling out of the champachship spotlight for the time being at least. To-day, instead of figuring an how it is going to beat Washington and Jefferson on Saturday, the Syrasians are pondering on their setback and how it all happened.

"Chick" Mechan, the snappy little the start of the restate closen, came to town yesterday and told us it was all in the game, that the past was forgotten and that he would concentrate on future games. He said Holy Cross played a whale of a game, fighting like demons to the final whistle, and that he had no excuses whatever to offer.

Mechan's only regret was that two of his stars, Fallon and Hoople, will probably be out for the rest of the season with injuries sustained in the contest. Mechan, besides being a clever mentor, is a philosopher and knows how to take a beating.

Six Undefeated Teams

Six Undefeated Teams

yracuse's exit leaves Penn State, tsburgh, Harvard, Princeton, orgetown, if you wish, Washington I Jefferson and Cornell in control the title situation at the present te. One and possibly three of these has aliminated this week and the power all along the route, which may or may not be the case. But in any event we know that with the exception of the Dartmouth struggle the "Lions," as the Penn State warriors are known, haven't been extended as yet.

Princeton had a busy as well as a heetic afternoon getting the decision over West Virginia. The Tigers may look powerful on paper but they haven't shown any super-ability to date, not enough, at least, to warrant favoring them over Harvard and Yale. Still, hey are going forward, and as long as believed to be practically as along a content of the best forward passing elevens in the East as well as a fine line.

Brown swamped Vermont and will sarely extend the Elis next Saturday. The frowines eleven in truth is coming along at a speedy citip. George properties of the same of the selective manner and Washington and seffers on along a still one of the selective manner and Washington and lefters on along a still the selective manner and Washington and lefters on along a still the selective manner and Washington and lefters on along a still the selective manner and Washington and lefters on along a still the selective manner and Washington and lefters on along a still the selective manner and washington and lefters on along a still the selective manner and washington and lefters on along the selective manner and washington and lefters on along the selective manner and washington and lefters on along the selective manner of the selective manner of the selective manner and washington and lefters on the selective manner of the selective manner

When a Feller Needs a Friend

By BRIGGS

conference by its victory over Min-

Yale Coaches May Shift Callahan

with a wholesale batch of subtraining the state of subtraining the subtraining the state of subtraining the su Unbeaten on the Gridiron

Kaw, of Cornell, Second

To New Position five games in succession, two have

| have French on the job they needn't | CI · C · C III | yet to suner deteat this season, and of | |
|--|--|--|--------------------|
| werry about their attack. | Shift Callahan | these three have scored six consecu- | Clenves, |
| The Westerners also proved in this | Water the second state of | tive victories, four of them have won | Haines |
| malee they are one of the best teams | To New Position | five games in succession, two have | Lawren |
| in the country. We were quite sur- | TO DOW I OBILION | taken four straight and two have seen | Savaria |
| prised by their strength. | AND INC. VANIET ON CO. SALES OF CO. | triumphant in three contests in a row, | Garrity, |
| Pittsburgh also is still moving ahead | From a Special Correspondent | Three of the latter four teams have | Watters |
| From present indications it is quite | | also played one tie game each. | Nooman |
| likely the Panthers and Penn State | NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31Ex- | Penn State, which heads the list with | Maginn Liban. |
| ill some tareflers and feath State | amination of all the Yale players, who | Harvard and Brown at six straight, | Foster, |
| will come together each unbeaten. | managed to outscore little Colgate yes- | tong them all in the motter of milet | Gardner |
| Therefore, all of you football fans who | The state of the s | tops them all in the matter of points | Keck, 1 |
| would like to enjoy a real treat on | terday, to-day showed that none was | scored, with a total of 232. George- | Breidat |
| Thanksgiving Day can make no mis- | injured enough to keep him from prac- | town, in the second group of unbeaten | Murray, |
| take in making the trip to Pittsburgh | tice. Frank Kelly, who was knocked | teams, still holds second place, with | W. Bur |
| to see this contest. It should be a | | 202. Cornell is next with 194 in five | Bainaz |
| knockout. | unconscious, was pronounced in good | games. Columbia leads the Manhattan' | Bajusz, Rugh, f |
| Pitt had its troubles winning from | condition and will rejoin the squad to- | elevens with four victories and one de- | Redlinge |
| Lufayette, but the Easton students are | morrow. Of the formerly injured | feat, and a total of seventy-five points, | Knabb, |
| not weaklings in any way. We venture | | while Fordham and New York Univer- | Heppen Owen, |
| to say Penn State will have just as | players Captain Callahan and Thorne | sity are near the tail-end. | Brooks. |
| much trouble defeating Lafayette's | Murphy will be in the line-up for | Benny Boynton, the Williams wizard, | Anderse |
| chief rival, Lehigh, on November 13. | light practice this week, but Mack | maintained his place at the head of the | Fallon, |
| | | individual scorers, with a grand total | Mosnegl |
| Mr. Dobie is sure to give his proteges | Aldrich, John Acosta and Tom Dickens | of ninety points, his fourteen touch- | |
| a call for not scoring 25 points against | will not attempt to play before the | downs being the most scored by any | |
| Rutgers. They only got 24. The Ithac- | Princeton match next week Saturday. | downs being the most scored by any | Goldma |
| ans since the second week of the senson | | player. Kaw, the Cornell halfback, | Scheere |
| have been running wild on all of their | There is still much doubt of Dickens | gained six points on boynton, naving | Simond |
| opponents, and when they come here | scrimmaging again this year. The ab- | a total of seventy-two. Third place is | |
| Saturday to play Dartmouth, a capacity | sence of guard material gave the | still held jointly by Kellogg, Syrncuse, | Harvey. |
| crowd is certain to attend the game. | coaches a topic for anxiety at their | and Way, Penn State, neither having | Gullek. |
| We shall also learn then whether the | daily session, and it is likely that Cap- | added to his fifty points Saturday. The | Rawlin |
| Big Red is really everything that it | tain Callahan will this week go to guard | greatest gain was made by Oden, of | Pull-yn |
| seems to be at the present time. How- | | Brown, who jumped from twenty- | Mallory |
| ever, there isn't any doubt whatever | instead of center, where he has played | fourth place in the standing into | Cagnon |
| that the former Navy tutor has instilled | two years. Cross and Galvin are | eighth place. | Hack, 1 Faxon, |
| | handling the center problem cleverly, | Following is the teams' records and | Martin, |
| speed into his charges upstate. | although Cross's two bad passes | individual scoring to date: | Pendlet |
| Rutgers with a heavy and well | marred an afternoon of remarkably ef- | | Smith. |
| coached line made the going hard | fective tackling and field play. Cross | College, W. L. Pta. O.P. T. F.T. G. Penn State 8 0 212 28 84 28 0 | Kenned |
| against the upstaters and showed im- | will hold the center position at present. | Harvard B 0 158 14 00 00 6 | Buell, |
| provement in turn over its play of | There are only two satisfactory' | Prown 6 0 103 7 20 13 0 | 5115 |
| previous weeks. Nebraska is not going | guard candidates on the squad Herr | Georgetown 5 0 got an ea ce c | Peni |
| to find any set-up when it opposes the | and Acosta, who is crippled. Callahan's | Wash & Jeff 5 0 178 7 25 22 2 | 2000 |
| Scarlet eleven to-morrow. | shift to Acosta's position may stiffen | Princeton 5 0 tto n to te w | |
| A Meritorious Victory | the Eli defense. It was through | Thirtsburgh 4 0 112 52 45 45 45 | 900000 |
| | Mackay that the Colgate knife play was | Estavens Tech 4 0 5a 9a c 5 | PHII |
| Boston College managed to carry off | repeated again yesterday, but the | Poston College 3 0 53 13 7 6 1 | Penn to |
| the honors in its game with the Spring- | coaches said to-night that they would | *Wesleyan 3 0 36 20 4 5 3 Army 6 1 172 40 25 19 1 | |
| field College, a meritorious victory | continue Mackay at right tack's. | *Sarucuse 4 1 165 14 23 22 2 | it was |
| whether or not it looks that way on | No line-up changes whatever are con- | Vale 4 1 123 28 17 15 9 | sult of |
| paper. The fact is many critics over- | templated immediately. Yale regards | Themen 4 1 102 92 14 10 1 | eleven. |
| look the strength of this Springfield | the Brown game as likely to prove a | Columbia 4 1 25 38 11 9 0 | week (|
| team every year whereas each season | genuine test. The Brownonians are | Williams 4 2 174 64 25 24 0 Penn 4 2 84 55 12 12 0 | |
| it has one of the best forward passing | believed to be practically as strong as | Dartmouth 3 2 99 45 14 19 1 | urday . |
| elevens in the East as well as a fine | | Amherst 3 2 85 40 12 10 1 | forced |
| line. | Boston College, while Yale will lack five | Nuty | |
| Brown swamped Vermont and will | first-string men who are stil crippled. | Holy Cross 2 2 34 30 4 4 2 | on Sat |
| surely extend the Elis next Saturday. | Brown backers here are offering even | *West Virginia 2 2 118 75 17 12 1 Lafayette 2 3 111 83 15 15 0 | Mike V |
| The Province clover is next Saturday. | terms on the game. | CFORGINATE COLUMN 2 2 2 3 99 105 24 4 4 | Columi |
| The Province eleven in truth is com- | | Hutgers 2 4 32 66 4 3 1 | meet i |
| ing along at a speedy clip. George- | Warner Praises Lafavette | | Unle |
| town remained in the running for top | EASTON, Pa., Oct. 31 Glen War- |  Y U | gether |
| honors by vanquishing Johns Hanking | war- | *Colgate 0 1 50 84. 2 5 0 | of Cos |

r, hb, Williams
th, Stevens,
Penn State,
hb, Penn State,
all, ie, Penn State,
all, ie, Penn State,
thavard
h, Harvard fo, Syracuse,
Syracuse
tskii, hb, Col.
hb, Yale
th, hb, Lehigh
te, Lehigh
te, Lehigh
te, Lehigh Lehigh

D. Princeton.

T. hb. Holy C.

West Va.

D. Cornell

Penn

Lehigh

The Navy

Columbia

Brown

Holy Cross.

Holy Cross.

Holy Cross.

Penn Eleven Worried

Over Coming Games Penn team more seriously crippled than week of preparation for Pitt on Sat-

Saegskill Golf Club Wins

IN ALL FAIRNESS George Gipp

By W. O. M'GEEHAN

REQUENTLY other teams show better football, but the popular interest always remains in the games involving Yale, Harvard and Princeton. Early season games indicate that these three universities have teams that are very evenly matched this year, and there should Notre Dame University be three games worth seeing. The first battle will be between Princeton and Harvard at Soldiers' Field Saturday.

The close of a sport-mad year finds a bigger popular interest in intercollegiate football than ever was shown before. It is not due to the growth of the alumni societies, either, and it is not altogether due to the fact George Gipp, of Notre Dame, a longthat the college football game is a spectacle worth seeing. The general legged, spraddle-legged, kangaroo halfpublic is taking to football for the game's sake. 'At West Point they told back, steps into the picture as the leadme that they had something like seventy thousand applications for the twenty thousand tickets available for the Army-Navy game. At New long time-another Eddie Mahan and Haven they are enlarging the Yale Bowl so that it will seat something like every whit as good eighty-five thousand for the Yale-Harvard game.

eighty-five thousand for the Yale-Harvard game.

Professional promoters are watching these developments with hungry eyes. There is much talk of a professional football league. There are one or two in the West, and they are making a little money. But American football professionalized never would go on a big scale. The game is

He may not be quite as artful a diodger as Mahan was—although Gipp is an eel—but he is a harder runner and a harder man to drag down.

This is about all that Gipp could do in his work against the Army eleven—

1. Hit a line with crushing force.

1. Hit a line with crushing force.

1. Hit a line with crushing force.

1. Hit a line with crushing force. can football professionalized never would go on a big scale. The game is what its name implies-intercollegiate football. The amateur tradition is its foundation. A game between two professional teams hardly would field draw a corporal's guard in the East, where the intercollegiate games are fierd draw a corporal's guard in the East, where the intercollegiate games are so plentiful.

Too Much Coaching

IT STRIKES me that football teams should run themselves once they take to the field. This business of having the professional coaches on the sidelines, where they practically can direct the plays of their teams through the medium of substitutes shot in with orders, blocks one of the objects of the game, which is to teach the young men to do their own thinking in emergency.

It is a great game for the development of character and initiative according to the theory, but when the coaches are interfering constantly it makes it a game of amateurs directed by professionals. The rules committee would make it a much better game if at the next session they would mittee would make it a much better game if at the next session they would legislate the coaches from the sidelines during the playing of the game. That would make it a real test of brain and brawn between the elevens to instead of a test of strategy between professional coaches.

The rules committee did recognize the evil of the coaches sending in orders for plays through substitutes. But they checked it only to a limited extent. They passed a rule forbidding a substitute to talk before one play had been made. Why not go the whole route and absolutely prevent the coaches from suggesting or interfering during the progress of a game?

Not a Good Compromise

Not a Good Compromise

THE reorganization of professional baseball is proceeding at a snail's ing mass of destruction as Gipp are pace. To the Lasker plan, backed by all the club owners of the National League and three club owners of the American League, Ban Johnson, supported by five club owners of the American League, has offered with a fine backfield to carry the ball son, supported by five club owners of the American League, has offered with the compromise of a new National Commission, composed of three club of note, owners of each of the big leagues and three club owners of the minor

The backers of the compromise plan maintain that "practical baseball downs and the Army had far formen" only can control the game. There is a certain vagueness about the than it had last year. Don't maintain that "practical baseball downs and the Army had far formen" only can control the game. There is a certain vagueness about the term "practical baseball men." It seems to me that the game has been handled by what the five club owners and Ban Johnson might call "practical baseball men" long enough. "Practical baseball men" permitted Hal tackle—and it knows how to fight. This Chase to stay in the game, despite what was known about him, until his is shown by the fact that for two persons are a fiver moved the weak-minded crooks on the Chicago team to success as a fixer moved the weak-minded crooks on the Chicago team to mach scandal developing. "Practical baseball men" are responsible for the condition of organized baseball to-day. Idealists in the place of "practical men" might bring about a wholesome change.

The appointment of the nine-man commission would not be any guaranty of stability. The nine men would be tangled up in baseball politics right from the start. Their sessions would be very much along the lines of the discredited National Commission. There must be over the commission of three or nine men a higher tribunal with absolute authority, and it must be made up of men whom the lover; of baseball will trust.

The appointment of the nine-man commission would not be any guaranty of stability. The nine men would be tangled up in baseball politics of the discredited National Commission. There must be over the commission of three or nine men a higher tribunal with absolute authority, and it must be made up of men whom the lover; of baseball will trust.

The appointment of the nine-man commission would not be any guaranteed to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it remained to few plays. Too limited to few plays. Too limited toward the finish, when, with only two minutes left, it rem

John A. Heydler told the truth when he said that the old National Commission was so concerned about petty baseball politics that it could see nothing close. The nine-man commission would be provided by the country of the treatmentances.

In spite of this the Army did remarkably well in scoring seventeen points against this Western team, which as it played on Saturday will probsee nothing else. The nine-man commission would be merely another ably have won from any team in the National Commission blinded by the same conflict of interests,

Jennings and the Giants

HUGHEY JENNINGS, old Oriole, is with the Giants as assistant to John J. McGraw. There are many who wonder why Jennings did not do better with the Detroit Tigers this year. It seemed to have all the potentialities of a first division team, yet it finished nowhere. Naturally there are many who will try to put all the blame on the manager.

It seemed to me that the matter with the Detroit team was too much Ty Cobb. There is no gainsaying the fact that Cobb is one of the greatest baseball players that ever lived, but he is an individual player and not a team player. One of Cobb's prerogatives, given by himself to himself, is to skip spring training. This naturally makes the other players peevish and any service of the greatest will be an individually makes the other players peevish.

Notre Dame is another eleven that discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates pack of his own goal line, Gipp dropped back as if to punt—the supposedly logical move—and then tossed a long forward pass to one of his ends, who muffed an easy chance thirty yards down the field. The pass struck in his arms and bounded out, but that was no fault of the play itself.

Although beaten, this game will do Daley's men a lot of good. It was their first stiff test, and they met it well. About three weeks from new Vaughan two, and Sharkey and Methods and the provided zone play in so far as generates discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates than discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates than discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in so far as generates that discarded zone play in and sea and feerates the provided zone that discarded zone play to skip spring training. This naturally makes the other players peevish and causes discontent on the team. Moreover, Cobb has demonstrated that he needs spring training just as much as a human baseball player. He starts the season slowly and is not at his best until late in the year.

There is one thing about the Giants. Never since McGraw took charge of the team have stars been given any special privileges. The team always has been well disciplined, and that counts. It helps to win baseball games. Jennings will find a different spirit on the Giants.

Uncle Robbie and Brooklyn

IN SIGNING Wilbert Robinson for a long-time contract Charles H. Ebbets showed good sense and foresight. There were at least three clubs who were willing to give Robbie the salary due a manager of his ability. There is no doubt that Robinson, with his happy faculty of making friends and his instinct for handling men, would have begun to make good in any new city, especially if he went to one of the wealthier baseball clubs.

But Robinson has been closely identified with the Brooklyn Dodgers and he was not eager to change. Twice he piloted the Dodgers to a pennant, but he missed winning a world's series. His ambition is to win a series with the same team. The Brooklyn fans are certain that he will, and he has so won over the Brooklyn fans that it would be a shock to the box office at Ebbets Field if he were to go somewhere else.

The Case of Marquard

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—With the T SEEMS certain that Rube Marquard, who was dismissed from organized baseball, will be given another hearing. Rube is said to have done it was during the last week as a re- some ticket scalping on a small scale during the world's series at Cleveland sult of the clash with the Penn State; and was fined $1 for the offense. Whereupon organized baseball virtuously eleven, the Quakers face the coming kicked him downstairs and declared that he never could play again.

Organized baseball always has been very firm and virtuous about urday with little real hope. Penn was disciplining a young ball player or an old ball player who is about forced to start some of its injured stars through. But the punishment of Rube Marquard is all out of proportion. on Saturday, especially Joe Straus and Mike Whitehall, yet the team has Pitt, Columbia, Dartmouth and Cornell to sold themselves to the gamblers. Moreover, the scalpers around New York meet in order.

Unless the team can be pulled together by herculean labors on the part of Coach Heisman and his assistants l'enn's chances are rather slim. But much is expected of the Heisman shift, which has heen little in evidence with Penn. This, together with some forward passes, will be Penn's surviving hone.

Solutionserves to the gamble Brooklyn game, which would indicate that others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others besides the Rube were engaged in the ticket business during the others business and the substance were engaged in the ticket business during the others business

The Big Bout

Lynch to Meet Sharkey Joe Lynch and Jack Sharkey will meet in Madison Square Garden next Friday night. Three other bouts will precede the main event—two tens and one six. Two champions will meet in the semi-final—Barney Adair, the Irish welterweight, and George Ward, of New Jersey. K. O. George Cheney, of Baltimore, will clash with George Brown, of the West Side.

AT THE current writing the Dempsey-Carpentier bout is slated for Cuba. To those who know anything about the promotion of big boxing bouts this look like a ruse. Havana, which failed to draw enough to make the $800,000 gate receipts counted on for the Dempsey-Carpentier bout—even with the added attraction of rum in all varieties.

It looks very much as though the promoters raised the talk of Cuba to forestall a lot of criticism that might come. The fact that Dempsey is to receive $200,000 for one bout started a lot of tangues to wagging is to receive $300,000 for one bout started a lot of tongues to wagging and has caused the Boxing Commission to wonder what effect a Dempsey-MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The Saegskill Golf Club, of Yonkers, played off a tie with the Dutchess Club, of Poughkeepsie, on the links of the Orange County Golf Club here this Somebody has said that it would be a national calamity if Dempsey were knocked out. Hardly that bad. The nation might survive the loss of the heavyweight championship.

Whole Team In Himself

Springs Sensation of Year on Gridiron at West Point

By Grantland Rice

3. Hold his feet after being tackled

The Army eleven fought well and at Warren took advantage of every break. In French the cadets presented a star who

A COOCHE IN THE

Money back, any time, should anything we sell fail to give entire satisfac-

The best of everything men and boys wear. Also sporting goods and lur.

Election Day we're open till one.

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

Lead in Conference Race

FOR MEN

(GP)N each garment, from the lowest priced, will be found the distinction that comes only from real quality.

AND UPWARD

KNOX OVERCOATS

AND UPWARD

KNOX HAT COMPANY

452 FIFTH AVENUE